TECHNICAL RIDER

Salsa Brassband

To make it a great show together, we ask the organisation to provide the following. The Salsa Brassband plays with horns, percussion, piano, bass guitar and vocals.

Sound

On stage

- 7 microphones for the trumpets and trombones
- 1 microphone for the singer
- 2 overheads for the drummers
- 1 monitor for the piano
- 1 bass amplifier for the bass guitar

Front of house

- Microphones for solo instruments, conductor, etc.
- Enough speakers for the audience
- Sound system suited to the number of guests

Lighting

- Basic stage lighting
- Extra lighting for specific effects (optional)
- Good visibility for artists and audience

Stage

- Solid stage area with enough room for all members of the Salsa Brassband (depending on line-up size)
- Stage riser, if needed
- Stable, level floor without obstacles

Power

- Sufficient power outlets near the stage
- At least 2 grounded sockets
- Enough capacity for sound and lighting
- Safe cabling, no extension cords across walkways

Dressing room

- A lockable dressing room for the artists
- Suitable for changing before the performance
- A safe place for personal belongings
- If possible: separate rooms for women and men

Transport & logistics

- Parking as close to the venue as possible for loading and unloading
- Reserved parking for all band members' vehicles
- Easy access for moving instruments
- Loading area kept free until after the performance

Indoors or outdoors

- Outdoors, a covered area is always required, such as a tent or canopy
- All members must be able to stand and play in the dry
- Woodwind and brass instruments in particular can be seriously damaged by moisture. Expensive equipment must be protected too.

Food & drinks

- Water and soft drinks for all band members and crew
- Available before and during the performance
- Snacks for band members and crew
- For long performances or rehearsals: a hot meal or catering

Important
If the facilities above are not available, the performance may be delayed or cannot go ahead. Any costs arising from this are borne by the organising party. In doubt or have questions about the rider? Please contact us in good time.
